Endorsement Launch Event

Date: 12th May

Time: 12pm-2pm online

Who

Any professional working directly or indirectly to advance the social and emotional health and well being of infants, young children (ante-natal-5 years) and their families.

What

IMH-E® is an international, competency-based credential that recognises professionals who demonstrate specialised knowledge, skills, and reflective practice in infant and early childhood mental health (IECMH). It is not a license or a course, but a recognition of expertise grounded in relationship-based, culturally responsive, and developmentally appropriate work with and on behalf of young children and their families.

Why

- Demonstrates your specialised skills and knowledge in IECMH
- Recognises your alignment with international competency-based standards
- Highlights your commitment to relationship-focused, developmentally appropriate work
- Supports the growth of a skilled, reflective workforce in Ireland
- Connection to an international network of Endorsed professionals across the world.
